Summer Reading was a splashing success

The "Oceans of Possibilities" Summer Reading Program has swum and gone but we shore had a good time! With a combined total of 2,477 hours read by patrons, each age group helped contribute in a big way. The Library saw the return of classic programs such as Storytime and Friday Nights on the Patio as well as new highlights, like Treasure Trove Crafts. Prize baskets were awarded at our closing Carnival event. Participants who completed the Summer Reading Program will be awarded a completion certificate and a free book, available for pick-up at the Circulation Desk through August. Thank you to our Summer Reading sponsor Culvers.

Hours read by age group:

Read-to-Me (0-6): 721 hours

Ind. Reader (7-9): 738 hours

Tween (10-12): 586 hours

Teen (13-18): 93 hours

Adult (18-99): 617 hours

Library Staff: 627 hours

Total Hours Read: 3,382 hours!

Old favorites return, new programs debut

Autumn at the Library will see the return of the beloved Toddler and Preschool Storytimes hosted by library staff. Starting the week of October 3, children can listen to stories and create themed crafts on Tuesdays and Thursdays. No registration will be required.

Also joining the calendar will be "Between the Covers", a romance book discussion group for fans of authors like Emily Henry and Jen DeLuca. Attendees can look forward to titles such as The Unhoneymooners by Christina Lauren and Holiday Swap by Maggie Knox starting October 4. Stay tuned for further information in the coming months.
